GRÉGOIRE-BESSON GROUP

www.gregoire-besson.com

In Grégoire-Besson, respect for the soil is a core value. This translates into the consideration of the realities agronomic, economic and natural. Thus, working the soil, one that will enable men to produce for other men is accompanied by a motto:

Remember that nature gives him much more than we ever will make.

It's always keeping in mind the idea that Grégoire Besson continues to advance with you.

Tillage Specialist, manufacturer of premium quality machines.

1802, Joseph Grégoire settled down to his forge Montigné-sur-Moine, Maine-et-Loire (49). At the start of the twentieth century, the heirs of Victor and Joseph specialized in the construction of machinery especially designed for agriculture and the plough. In 1959, Alphonse Besson, son in law of Victor Grégoire takes the helm of the company "Grégoire-Besson". Small local company, Grégoire-Besson extends its marketing throughout the French territory. In 1993, Patrick Besson, the son of Alphonse, became chairman of the Group. It will inspire the inertia of external developments and export. These developments are illustrated by the recovery of four production companies in France (SNF in 1989, Askel in 2001 Souchu in 2005, Dehondt in 2006) and the creation of six commercial subsidiaries on three continents (England 1991, Canada 1992, Poland 1998, Russia 2004, China 2010 and Ukraine 2011). The development of export markets is through the establishment of partnerships with importers covering 72 countries. The year 2011 will mark the export development. On the one hand with the establishment of a new production site in Ancona (Italy), factory specializing in the manufacture of tools for Africa and Asia and also with the acquisition of RABE Agri GmbH company in Germany. These developments will enable the Group Grégoire-Besson to expand its zone of action in emerging markets and increase production capacity to supply developing countries in agriculture. Today the French market leader, the Group Grégoire-Besson is positioned as a specialist manufacturer of premium tillage equipment (ploughs, disc harrows, tined equipment).

Our mission: Build farm machinery for working the soil that can fit all types of tractors, regardless of their power and agricultural structure in which they operate.

Agronomy: Understanding the life of the earth, its characteristics, evaluate the expectations of the people who live.

Engineering: Develop innovative machines, endurance, and ergonomically designed.

Metallurgy: Conduct appropriate and efficient machines by perpetuating the skills and having a high knowledge of steel.
